

Boston Society Colony in Berkshires Opening Up Their Villas for Season, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

There is much bustle and bustle in the Berkshire region these days.

Villas are being inspected, leased and opened daily, and before many weeks have passed the season of stockpiling will have, more or less, been established for the season.

Mrs. L. Currier Penno, whose Beacon street home is frequently opened for various charity sales, arrived the other day in Stockbridge with Miss Florence Penno.

Mrs. Penno has taken Mrs. Lawrence Gray's cottage, near the golf course. She had previously leased a place on Yale Hill, but decided later in favor of the house near the village. Mrs. Penno has a number of attractive daughters, the Messrs. Pauline, Florence, Marian and Elizabeth Penno, and society will be interested to know that Miss Elizabeth will be a debutante of the 1924 season.

Approximate of Stockbridge, two married couples whose wedding was of wide importance, are spending their honeymoon at the Red Lion Inn. They are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taylor, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miles, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor (husband's name) were married on April 29 at a quiet ceremony in the Philadelphia home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Stewardson. Mr. Taylor, a Harvard '21 man, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taylor, of No. 304 Berkeley street, is bringing his bride to live in Boston. A good-sized contingent went over from Boston to Dedham-Ferry on the Hudson for the ceremony which, about a fortnight ago, transformed Miss Sylvia Eldridge Brown into the bride of Charles A. Miles, Jr., of Chestnut Hill. Mrs. Miles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Brown, of Tufts Ferry and New York. Mrs.

Brown was formerly Miss Ida Eldridge of Boston.

MRS. HALLAM L. MOVIE is among the list of distinguished folk who are sponsoring the dancing fete which Miss Bertha and Francesco Braggiotti and their pupils will present at the Lora Anderson estate on Saturday afternoon, May 24.

A kind of society's future debutante—some of them are still quite tiny—will participate in this interesting affair. The performance will be given in the lovely amphitheatre by the pool and terrace by the house. In case of rain, the performance and tea will be held indoors. The hour is set for 3.30 o'clock.

A few other patronesses include Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Harry Lyman, Mrs. Philip Stockton, Mrs. J. Mott Halowell, Mrs. Harry H. Thornehill, Mrs. Arthur Blake, Mrs. Gerald Boardman and Mrs. Hendricks Wiltman.

Mrs. William Pratt has closed her home at No. 2 Fairfield street and is spending a few weeks at the Hotel Vendôme.

Mrs. Alice Mathen is a hostess for the annual national capital outdoor horse show, which will open at Arlington Park, Va., on May 18.

Leverett Bradley is among the recent Boston arrivals at the Red Lion Inn in Stockbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Gloria Morgan will hold the christening of their infant daughter next Thursday afternoon at their home in New York on East Seventy-seventh street. The child will be called Gloria after her mother.

Mrs. Charles H. Tweed will be of the New York colony at Beverly Farms during the coming season.

GREAT BRITAIN INSISTS ON SEA SUPREMACY

Contrives to Keep American Navy Second in Power to Her Own

Washington, May 12 (Universal)—Great Britain demands unquestioned naval supremacy and insists that the United States must be satisfied with second place, according to information in the hands of navy department officials.

This information, contained in the form of a letter, states positively that American officials may as well realize that, in any conference having to do with the general limitation of naval armaments, the British government will insist upon being given first place.

The present British attitude is regarded as explaining clearly the stand taken at the Washington arms conference by the British delegates, who were willing to give the United States navy nominal equality with their own fleet, but at the same time contrived with the aid of secrecy of State to put the United States definitely in second place.

How well this purpose was accomplished is revealed by the letter of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt to Chairman Butler of the House Naval Committee in the last part of last year, in which the United States could claim of only 44, as compared to Great Britain's 55, ships of the line.

Under the 55-ship limit of the five-power navy limitation treaty.

PASSENGER IN OVERLOADED AUTO DYING

Five Attempt to Ride in 2- Passenger Machine, One Falling Out

Attleboro, May 12.—Thomas P. Walpole is in a critical condition at Bayview Memorial Hospital, Pawtucket, R. I., and four of his companions are under arrest on charges of drunkenness, simply because the five tried to ride in a two-passenger runabout.

Patton and Albert J. Grimes of Sharon were riding on the log carriage in the rear of the machine, and the other three in the front of the car, when, as they drove through Main street, it fell off.

The injured man was removed to the hospital, suffering from a fracture of the skull. His companions were arrested on charges of drunkenness. An additional charge of driving while under the influence of liquor was brought against John D. Devitt of Walpole, the driver.

'Klan' Threat for Chelsea Teacher of Psychology

America A. Capone, No. 842 Yale street, Chelsea, a teacher of psychology at the Y. M. C. A., has received two warnings since "Ku Klux Klan" to leave the city or "behave."

Each threat, written in red ink with drawings of a skeleton and cross bones, were found by Capone in his machine parked near the Y. M. C. A. Building on Huntington avenue.

Capone believes the notes were written by a man posing as a professor of psychology who, he says, was driven to "cover" in a lecture hall when he recently exposed him as an impostor.

BARING MAY FACE SANITY COMMISSION

White Plains, N. Y., May 12.—Charles O. Baring, awaiting trial on indictments charging him with the attempted murder of his wife through the introduction of germs and poison in her food, may be called upon to face a sanity commission. District Attorney Howland admitted that he and two physicians had visited Baring in his cell. Baring's attorney, Charles E. Long, said today his client had refused to answer questions put to him by the alienists. Long was indignant at Howland's action, characterizing it as "outrageous and unfair," and calling it a violation of legal ethics. Mrs. Baring left her home to visit friends in Providence, R. I.

WIFE'S MOTHER SENT TO STATE HOSPITAL

Mental Condition of Salem Woman Probed; Barnes to Pay $3 Weekly for Child

A mother, trapped by the laundry marks on the clothing of the three-week-old daughter she abandoned, was today ordered in Lynn Superior Court to the State Hospital at Tewksbury for one month, during which time her mental condition will be observed. At the same time Judge Howe sentenced Frank Barnes, Boston & Albany brewman, and father of the child, to two months in the house of correction. Sentence was suspended, but Barnes was directed to pay $3 a week toward the support of the child. The mother is Mrs. Veronica Mahoney of No. 61 North street, Boston. The woman is married, but does not live with her husband. Barnes resides at No. 75 Blaine street, Lynn. MARKS ON CLOTHING. When Mrs. Mahoney, a shoe-woman residing at No. 48 South Common street, Lynn, found a baby lying on the doorstep of her home, she turned the infant over to Lynn police. At the Lynn Hospital the marks "42-B-C H-324" furnished the authorities with a clue that led directly to the parents of the child. The marks, interpreted, meant the child was listed as case 42-B at the Boston City Hospital and the record was discharged on May 9, 1924. At the Boston City Hospital the records showed the mother of the child had been listed as Doris Graham of No. 13 Chatham street, Lynn, and that her hospital bill had been paid by Frank Barnes. The police located Barnes in a dance hall at Kittery, Me. He at once gave the officers the correct name and address of the child's mother and she was arrested in Salem. SHE WAS FRANTIC. "For God's sake don't ask me why I did it," Mrs. Mahoney said to police detectives who questioned her, for I was frantic. "William Millerick and my mother, Mrs. Cyr, went to the hospital with me. "The more I thought of bringing a baby back to Salem, where everyone who knows me knew I had not been living with my husband, the less able I felt to face the situation. "We were passing a Boston restaurant when I told my friends of my determination to leave it there. They came along home, while I pretended to go into the institution with the child. HURRIED TO LYNN. "I hurried to Lynn, over the Narragansett, I had no plan in mind. I hoped to be able to drop the little girl somewhere, keep track of her through the newspapers, and sometime later, when my situation would be improved, turn up and claim her. "And so, half crazy, I tramped the streets in the rain. My powers of reasoning were expiring. I was now, for the first open door seemed the one salvation. I dropped the baby and ran. CHARGE AGAINST MAN. Barnes, twenty-eight years old and divorced, who does a charge of beer support, appeared to be having a good time at the Kittery dance, but offered no objection when the detectives tried to take him to return to the city with him. U. S. SHIPBUILDING SLUMPS 96 PER CENT. Philadelphia, May 12.—Plans to insure the permanency of shipbuilding as one of America's basic industries and for the upbuilding of the American merchant marine were discussed at the annual meeting of the Atlantic Coast Shipbuilding Association here today. In his report, Secretary Clarence King attributes the depression in the industry to unsettled international conditions and "lack of a definite maritime policy on the part of the nation." During the last three years the industry had shown a decline of 96 per cent, he said. CHOLERA APPEARS IN NEW POINT IN INDIA London, May 12.—The Daily Telegraph's Allahabad correspondent says the cholera epidemic which has been raging in several sections of India has broken out in the State of Mysore, where there were 450 cases with 391 deaths last week. The epidemic in Bihar, where there have been 167 deaths since the beginning of the year, is abating. With the exception of the Champaran districts, where the death number still daily, the situation is said to be well in hand. COTTON MEN ELECT FARNSWORTH LEADER Providence, May 12.—John D. Bandits Beat Seven Victims and Lock Them in Ice Chest

New York, May 11.—Seven men early today escaped death in an East Side hall by breaking out of an ice box in which they had been forcibly imprisoned by six bandits.

Before forcing their victims into the refrigerator the gunmen robbed them of their money and watches, and later broke into a safe. The gang escaped with about $1,500 in money and jewelry.

The ingenuity of one of the victims, who was able to loosen a bolt, which released a padlock on the ice box door, made escape possible.

The victims were treated for scalp lacerations, inflicted by the gunmen, who beat them with their revolver butts. They met five with her husband. Barnes resides at No. 75 Blaine street, Lynn. LAST OF 40,000 JAPS GO HOME FOR BRIDES

200 Leave San Francisco to Return Before Exclusion Act Becomes Law

San Francisco, May 12.—What is probably the last of the so-called Kankadan, or Japanese bride revision ships, the Korea Maru of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha line, sailed for the Orient, carrying 200 Japanese, most of them brides. With good luck they have just time to get to Japan, grab a bride for each man, and return here under the cloak of the proposed exclusion act, which if approved by President Coolidge as Congress has passed it, will be passed over his veto and become effective July 1. It was recently stated that 6,000 such Japanese couples were awaiting ships in Kobe, Yokohama and Nagasaki, in which to return to the United States. V. S. McClellan, California newspaper proprietor, says 40,000 Japanese husbands are or were in the United States and that many of them contemplated bringing brides. TRIED TO BRIBE AT RUM RAID, POLICE SAY Fresno, May 12.—Shaman, who conducts a store at No. 121 Chelsea street, East Boston, was arraigned in court today on bribe and attempted bribery charges. Patrolman Holton said that he had been bribed by the Shaman to help him in a rum raid. The Shaman was arrested and charged with attempting to bribe the patrolman. The Shaman was released on $1,000 bail. The case was continued until Saturday.

TETLEY'S

Makes good TEA a certainty

When is a cup of tea not a cup of tea?

THIS isn't a conundrum. Look at the recipe printed at the right. If you make it that way, the tea you drink and serve your guests is real tea. But if you do not use this recipe, your cup of tea is just a poor, weak imitation.

No drink is so delightful as real tea. When you are worn out or just plain tired, nothing will comfort and refresh you like real tea. Its taste is something to remember and look forward to—there is nothing like it anywhere.

There is no excuse for making tea in any but the right way. Nothing could be easier. And the result is infinitely superior to the unsatisfactory beverage so many people call tea.

Make one pot this way to-day. It is worth your while to learn what real tea tastes like.

Let Tetley Help

All tea is not alike. Crops from many different gardens must be blended to produce the tea you buy. Your enjoyment of tea depends upon what brand you buy—upon the packer's ability to secure the finest crops, upon the skill and accuracy with which these teas are blended. Because Tetley's ability to do these things is unequalled, Tetley's Orange Pekoe Tea is the choice of discriminating tea drinkers the world over.

The right way to make tea.

Boil one cupful with boiling water. Put one teaspoonful of tea in pot for each cup of tea.

Four freshly boiled, bubbling water on the tea-leaves.

Steep for five or six minutes.

Always serve with milk or cream.

One pound of Tetley's Tea makes 200 cups.

GREYHOUND OF RUM FLEET IS CAPTURED

Steel-Armored Runner Runs on a Reef During Chase by Marine Police

New York, May 12.—The May will bring no more blunder from the rum fleet to New York, for today the rugged gray craft, straggling against a police pier and four of her crew are behind bars after the most thrilling race and battle yet staged in the war against the bootleggers of the Atlantic.

Armed against the steel-jacketed bullets of the marine police machine guns and high-powered rifles, carrying four airplane Liberty engines, each 450 horsepower, the May had been only three days in the rum-running business when captured.

The rear of the engine and the elevator ripple of the guns brought hundreds to the docks as the rum-runner heaved up the East River at dusk, jettisoning cases of liquor as she went.

Seeing that their fire had no effect upon the steel shields of the May, the police concentrated their aim on the hull and suddenly the May swung across Hell Gate and on a reef a few feet from the southern shore of Ward's Island.

When the police came alongside they found four men, one with a fractured leg. All were held for action by the United States Coast Guard.

Taft Moves to Quash Coakley Indictment

Quashing of an indictment charging conspiracy to extort money, returned against Daniel H. Coakley, William J. Corcoran and Charles Gimbard, was sought today in East Cambridge Court on the ground that the indictment was improperly drawn.

Mr. Taft moved quashing because, he claimed, an important legal phrase was omitted when the indictment was drawn.

The conspiracy charged extended over a period of the past ten years, according to the indictment. Mr. Taft claimed that at least a portion of the charge was outlawed by the statute of limitation. This constituted additional grounds for quashing the indictment, he said.

The court is hearing arguments on all the motions presented by the defense before announcing decision.

L' CARMEN ASK 95 CENTS AN HOUR PAY

Demand for a new maximum wage of 95 cents an hour for the blue uniform men, one day off in fifteen with pay and a six-hour day for Sundays and holidays are reported to be the principal features of the proposed new wage and working agreement presented by the Boston Seamen's Union for the coming year, beginning July 1.

Conference on the proposed agreement was to begin with the executives of the company at the latter's headquarters in the Park Square Building today.

Under the existing agreement, the men, who make up the majority of the more than 5,000 employees of the company, the maximum wage is 75 cents an hour for eight-hour day.

The men are granted one day off a fifteen without pay and under one restriction. They are obliged to work a full eight-hour day on Sundays and holidays. There were no working conditions were granted under what is known as the Mayberry award, handed down about a year ago, after both sides in conference had failed to reach an agreement.

It is also said the men are demanding the company provide the uniforms, now costing the men about $25. The women collected on the transportation division, who now have a choice of uniforms, which are reported to be looking for four so-called a year, one more color of work than the blue uniform men who are allowed a choice of "rums" three times a year.

POPE'S NAME DAY CELEBRATED IN SPLENDOR

Rome, May 12.—The Pope's name day was celebrated at the Vatican today.

All who arrived today today were the full dress uniform, the Swiss guard, the pontifical band, while Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, Monsignor Ferretti, under-secretary for ecclesiastical affairs, Monsignor Borgognoni, Dalmatian secretary of extraordinary affairs of the Vatican, Monsignor Sabini, Polish secretary of state, and Monsignor Zephal, Russian secretary of state, were present.

Thousands of pilgrims were received not only from Italy but from all countries, particularly noticeable in those from Poland, expressed satisfaction at the presence of Archbishop Zephal of Russia, recently released from a Soviet prison, and the warm reception received at Rome by the Russian-Polish prelate.

Other messages alluded to the presence in the various countries for pilgrimages to Rome during the approaching holy year.

BROWNS-RED SOX HAVE IDLE DAY

Boston fans were denied the chance to witness George Sider in action today because of the heavy downpour of rain that caused the third postponement of the Browns-Red Sox series at Fenway. Unfavorable weather is expected by the weatherman tomorrow George and his Brownies will have a better opportunity without showing their wares.

Crowds March on Embassy in Moscow, but Order Maintained by Troops

Moscow, May 12 (A.P.)—Anti-German demonstrations were held throughout Russia Sunday. Workers, students and government employees paraded the streets of Moscow carrying flaming banners the legend: "Don't Play With Fire, Mr. Mussolini!" "The Time Has Come to Destroy the German Empire!" "Down With the German Social Democrats!" and "Hands Off the Soviet Union!"

The crowds were peacefully and orderly approaching the embassy by a mounted detachment of troops and order was maintained.

Nowhere in America are traditions richer or is history more illuminating than in Boston, the city of Patriotism, Literature, Art and Science. It has ever been in the forefront of progress and culture.

The Boston public is proud of that conservatism, handed down by the Fathers who have helped to make the city great, and will not give wholehearted support to any project which has not proved its merit.

Boston received Checker
Taxi with open arms, and made possible its growth in 2 1/2 years from a small undertaking with 15 cabs to the largest taxi company in New England, and one of the foremost in the United States.

Bostonians welcomed the change from the old style cab of uncertain age, mostly without meters, which meant an altercation with the driver every time regarding the amount to be paid.

What a difference with the Checker system. New, clean, comfortable cabs, drivers who are gentlemen and meters that issue a receipt for the extremely reasonable rates charged. Honest business methods, with every thought for the protection and convenience of patrons.

The Boston public has made possible a taxi service in keeping with the importance of the city. The have rallied to the Checker flag and have taken pride in its development. We cannot thank them too much for their loyal support and consideration at all times.

There is nothing we will not do in return to show appreciation. Every effort is directed toward giving the very utmost in service at the lowest possible cost, and all the time we are thinking of something else we can do to add to the rider's comfort and convenience.

Don't Take a Chance—Take a Checker!

FIRST OF SERIES ON 2-TUBE AMERICAN SUPERFLEX

TWO TYPES OF THIS SET

Panel Mount and Base Mount to Be Described in Series

By M. A. SIMMONS.

Here we go on the two-tube type of the Boston American Super-Amplified Neutrodyne Reflex. Even though the two-tube is larger than the one-tube, you may still call it the American Superflex whenever you are in a hurry. The use of this set amply justifies the name whatever name you call it.

The photographs below show the two styles of the two-tube type. One shows the base mounted style and the other the panel mount.

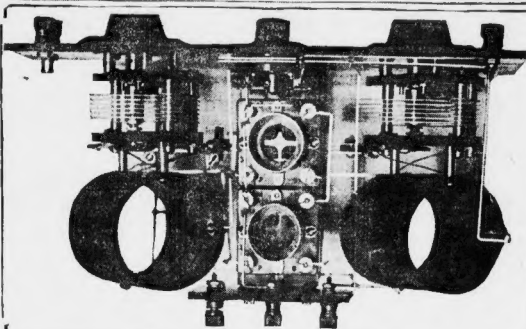

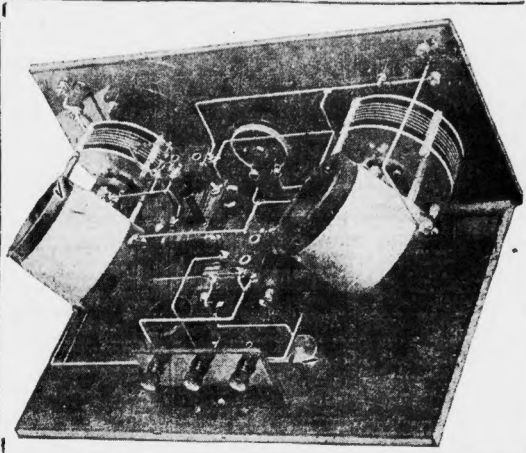

We suggest that you save these photos, as they will help you greatly in building the set.

For your satisfaction in identifying the parts of the photos, we will tell you the names of the parts that were used in these sets. We do not recommend these makes over others that have been listed, however.

For the base mounted type: Walcham 13-plate condenser, American Super coils wound, Federal panel and basement sockets, United audio transformer, Eka fixed crystal, cover off, Dabbling fixed mica condensers, Klomax 300m rheostat with dial, Gensco rubber pads, Eky marked parts, and a Federal jack for phones.

Tomorrow we will show the complete hookup of the two-tube Superflex.

HOW THE TWO LUNGER LOOKS

BACK STAGE VIEW OF TWO-TUBE SUPERFLEX

Both the panel and the base mount types of two-tube Superflexes are shown in the above photographs. These sets were some of those which were used for actual testing out of various parts. The two-tube set will not greatly increase your range over the one-tube set, but will give you loud speaker volume on most stations.

Radio Queries

In regard to F. H. G.'s question concerning Cuckoo's 4-circuit tuner, I had exactly the same difficulty at first and it took quite a lot of experimenting before I overcame it. You might suggest that by reversing the single turn winding on the coil secondary, there are three different arrangements of connecting the potentiometer in the circuit, each of which will vary the action of regeneration and sensitivity, and if he has tried any other grid and first by-pass condenser than the Amplex across the primary of the first transformer, he will have trouble there, as the Amplex is very critical in adjustment. If any of these suggestions do not apply, if he will give me a coil or drop a line, we may be able to work together on it. L. J. D.

Thanks for the article. If F. H. G. would like this address, we will be glad to forward it to him.

What station at Atlanta was on at 1:30 A.M. May 8? M. E. D. I.

Probably WBS, although their late concert is generally over at 1:30 A.M. The other Atlanta station practically never has late concerts and is rarely heard up here.

Can a CVTIS audio transformer be used in the Superflex? Also can a pair of Cums transformers be used to amplify itself R. B. T.

Yes to both questions.

1.—Which is better for the Superflex—two stages of push-pull or a re-entrant-coupled amplifier of three stages? 2.—Would a .001 mfd. condenser do in place of a .001 in the Superflex? M. H.

1.—The push-pull in combination with the Superflex would be better. 2.—This is something you will have to try out by actual experiment.

Are the two variable condensers in the new Superflex of the variety type? If not, would the vernier work better than the single eleven or thirteen plate.

The type of condenser which has in extra or vernier plate, or a combination of three plates, is not recommended. The condenser has up years or some similar method of securing vernier control, are not needed. The small knob vernier that moves the dial by friction contact may be used with a non-oscillator condenser.

FIGHT OVER PRISONER IN RAID

Lawrence, May 12.—A clash between Federal dry agents and the local liquor squad, the outcome of a raid on a near-by saloon, has split the two agencies wide apart and may result in Washington taking official action.

While the Federal prohibition men were taking the saloon of John Lawrence at N. 10, south Broadway, the police later seized upon the situation and arrested John P. Norton, appeared in the saloon and took a severe beating.

The police officers were taking Patrick J. Ryan, a bartender, as their prisoner. Federal agents also seized him.

Child Shot When Dad's Gun Drops in Church

The church, May 12.—Poultney, Vt., a child shot today suffering from a bullet wound when a pistol dropped from her father's hand while they were in church and was accidentally discharged.

The Rev. Rev. J. J. Sullivan, of the Holy Trinity Church, had called upon the congregation to sing and sing a hymn. As William Smith, the father, was in his seat, the pistol fell from his pocket.

Smith told the police he had been holding up several times, and carried the weapon for protection.

The Lawrence police seized the child and took her to a hospital. The child is now recovering.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. N. Mahoney
Boston Health Commissioner

I know that many of you are going to be disappointed in not going to the doctor's office for a check-up. But I want to tell you that it is not the doctor's office that is the best place to keep well. It is the home that is the best place to keep well. I want to tell you that the best way to keep well is to live a healthy life. I want to tell you that the best way to live a healthy life is to eat a healthy diet, to exercise, and to get plenty of sleep. MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury
The average reader has several conceptions for it is a common customer, what it needs most of all is a hitching post for husbands.

Every wife who goes shopping should have some place to tie her husband so she'll know where to find him when she wants him.

A husband is only good for two things. One is to pay for the groceries and the other is to carry the bundles.

Some men don't need hitching posts. They can be trusted to follow around the store.

If a man goes out of the city from the wrong side.

Some husbands are so stupid that they don't know where to go. They have to be led by the hand. They have to be told where to go. They have to be told what to do. They have to be told how to do it. They have to be told when to do it. They have to be told where to go. They have to be told what to do. They have to be told how to do it. They have to be told when to do it.

Here is a chance for every New England citizen of 17 to 24 to have a wonderful vacation FREE OF CHARGE.

It will be out in the open at Camp Devens. It will last for thirty days. The time is August, greatest month of the year for the open air.

The company will be the most distinguished that can be gotten together and every man, no matter what his business or social rating will be on the same footing with every other man. . . . including the two sons of the President of the United States.

His train fare to and from the vacation camp will be FREE.

His clothing will be furnished. His food will be provided. His laundry bills will be paid. Athletic goods and musical instruments will be furnished free to anyone who wishes to play FREE OF CHARGE.

He will have an opportunity to discipline his body and his mind and to bond them to his own will. He will be permitted to practice these factors so necessary to success in the presence of a great company all bent to the same purpose.

He will have social diversion provided by the best speakers, the best musicians and the most charming of hostesses in this fair State of Massachusetts.

He will have an opportunity for horsemanship, FREE. He may learn the best and most modern things that should interest every man—health, hygiene, sanitation, a knowledge of what our great American institutions stand for, our army and what it stands for, our Constitution and what it stands for, the fundamentals of home defense. He can partake of an educational course necessary to every good citizen, but costly to the young man who goes to college for such knowledge. For him it will be FREE.

Vanderville and dancing will be provided FREE. Boxing, fencing and a daily form of exercise that would cost a thousand dollars at one of the expensive private training camps will be provided for him daily—FREE.

The waiting list is open. There will be two thousand of the finest in this country at this summer camp.

All that is necessary is to write a letter. Address it to

COMMANDING GENERAL,
FIRST CORPS AREA,
ARMY BASE, BOSTON.

A request such as "please send me particulars" and enrollment blanks for the Citizens' Health-Building Military Training Camp to be held at Camp Devens next August," will be sufficient. Be sure to print your name and address plainly. It is not necessary to enclose a return envelope or enclose a stamp. Even that will come to you FREE.

Of course you must be an American, normal and healthy.

Stop Him and Her Now, TODAY

Don't Let Him Stop YOU, or YOURS

KILL THIS—PROTECT YOUR FAMILY

Here is an enlarged picture of a common house fly. He is more powerful than this much magnified picture makes him.

A million times a million are on their way here today. Warm weather will speed up their arrival. Each one will have six legs and six feet. Each foot is cup shaped, so that he can cling to smooth surfaces.

Each foot in each tiny little cup will carry dirt, disease and, in some cases, death.

TODAY, NOW, IS THE TIME TO STOP HIM.

First, see to it that no filth, garbage or waste is exposed. Starve him.

Second, windows and doors should be screened. Do not let a few get in and lay their eggs. They breed ten generations in a summer.

Next, keep all food covered and have a mosquito net over the babe. Flies, crawling over faces of sleeping infants leave thousands of germs from their cup-shaped feet that bring disease.

Get this fellow now before he gets you or yours.

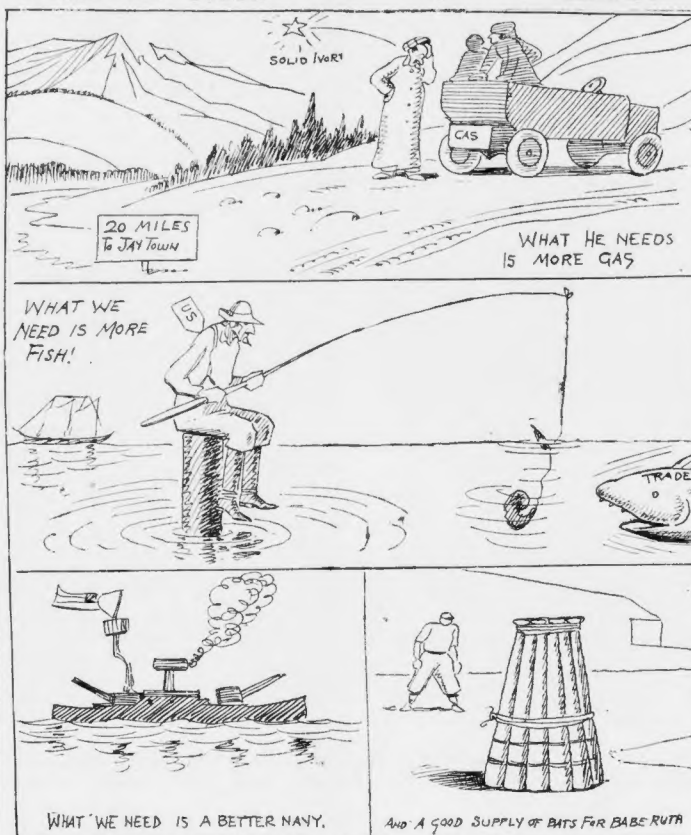

Widows Who Live Long

Here is a handful of statistics which Senator Bursum of New Mexico read to the United States Senate the other day:

I desire to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that of widows of veterans of the Civil War there are 12,215 of the age of 74; there are 15,000 of the age of 75; there are 15,000 of the age of 76; there are 14,000 of the age of 77; there are 13,900 of the age of 78; there are 14,000 of the age of 79; there are 18,000 of the age of 80; there are 14,000 of the age of 81; there are 8,000 of the age of 82; there are 3,000 of the age of 83; there are 4,000 of the age of 84; there are 3,000 of the age of 85; there are 1,000 who are 94 years of age. There are, also, 157,000 widows of Civil War veterans over the age of 74.

How says we are in a long-lived race?

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

WHEN you marry, remember—

That the primary secret of making a man happy consists in knowing how to LET HIM ALONE.

That marriage is a partnership which doesn't mean that one-half of the firm should work like a dog in order that the other half may live like a Pomeranian.

That the life of a wife, you will be expected to follow. Follow her wherever your husband goes and, at the same time, to be a ballet when he flies too high.

That a husband's idea of "treasure chests" is to be served first, then to be served two days in succession.

That a man's love letters are better than the almanac of matrimony.

That a husband is like religion; to give you any real comfort, he must be taken with blind faith.

That there is no question of degree in marriage. You can be a little bit tried or a little bit in love; but you can't be a little bit married.

That marriage is a business duty which says, "This shall have no other idea before me."

That, with care and remodeling, one good husband OUGHT to last you a lifetime.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON A CURIOUS PLAY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A CURIOUS and notable play has seen the light this season. It is called "The Man Who Ate the Popomae."

The popomae was supposed to be a kind of strange fruit from China with a most delicious taste. However, it not only had a most powerful offensive odor, but anyone who ate it became infected with the same disagreeable smell.

The play was a sort of parable, but the author declined to indicate what it is intended to teach. And perhaps, after all, the best sort of parable is one that leaves you free to draw your own moralizing from it.

Being both fond of moralizing and rather addicted to the habit, I cannot resist saying that in me the message of the play is the tragedy of disgust. Perhaps more lives are blighted, more feelings hurt, more hearts broken, more hopes lost and more snafus played generally with happiness by disgust than from any other cause.

The true opposite of love is not hate; it is disgust; in fact hate is not always so very far from love, whereas love and disgust never merge.

Our sense of smell is our most aristocratic faculty. It can most subtly draw us toward or repel us from another.

It is the most typical physical symbol of the positive and negative electricity of the soul.

There are what you might call soul odors.

A gentle and noble deed has a delicate and delightful aroma. A cowardly and brutal act repels us as a mighty stench.

One curious thing about disgust is that it is often and indeed usually excited by some deed of self-indulgence. We all want to gain, to become prominent, to gratify our desires and to be comfortable. One would naturally suppose that for one to succeed in this direction would impress another favorably. On the contrary it does not. It is for this reason that when a lady wishes to charm she is careful not to feed grossly, but to pick and dally with her food. She realizes the repellent effect of the appearance of strong indulgence. So also Daphnis is careful to show to Chremylus that she is cold and indifferent no matter how warm her affection may be.

That the commons do not like a very wealthy man is not wholly to be explained by envy and the inferiority complex. The millionaire has indulged himself too much in success. There is a bad odor.

The primitive instinct of every human being is for self-expression; that is, for the full outpour of our desires. But a secondary instinct, one that comes later in the story of evolution, is the instinct for self-control. So that one who lets himself go, gets what he wants and satisfies his body and spirit to the full, suggests rather the beastly part of Man-kind, while one who gives evidence of constant self-mastery, who is always above his pleasures, who can deny himself with ease, gives the impression of a true gentleman.

Even in the matter of life itself, if we are too greedy we are disgusting. Patriots and martyrs who have flung away their lives in a supreme act of self-suppression, shed the most delicate and rare odor in the pages of history.

I do not know at all whether the author of Popomae intended to put all this in it, but it is what I got out of it.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON ROCKETS TO MARS

By Garrett P. Serviss, Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

MR. DONALD M. WILLIAMS would like to know if it is unreasonable to suppose that the meteoric bodies of the earth, and occasionally do considerable damage, being composed of solid iron from which nickel might not be rockets or engines of some kind shot at the earth from Mars, and possibly from other planets.

Such a suggestion presents a startling view of the solar system, calculated to appeal to the imagination of H. G. Wells as it functioned in the days when he wrote his first famous book, "The War of the Worlds."

Jupiter, Mars, old Saturn, even beautiful Venus, according to this view, may be shooting at one another, or at least at the earth, but the tendency is to regard Mars as the chief, if not the sole, offender, the black sheep of the solar system.

It is the view of the world that Mars was the part the planet started with, the part that started with the boldest projects, coming after the earth, from the heat of their crush upon our atmosphere, armed with mysterious engines of destruction invented by super-terrestrial science, and which would quickly have subdued the earth, had they not been so much hindered by our microbes had not unexpectedly come to the rescue by infecting and slaying the invaders.

One question naturally arises from Mr. Williams's suggestion is why we should take as authorities the view of the world from Mars, or why we should take as authorities the view of the world from Mars, or why we should take as authorities the view of the world from Mars.

A better answer would be given to this question than the fact that it was not once last Sunday. It was once last Sunday, May 4.

Editor American:
Thanks for your editorial concerning the Tourist's Information Bureau, but permit me to call attention to the fact that you are close on Sunday. Our information booth in the Back Bay is open every Sunday from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

We discovered last year that these hours for Sunday were very satisfactory, although for week days the booth opens at 2 a. m. and closes at 930 p. m. during this month. During the summer the closing hour is 11 o'clock. This is our technical closing hour.

The actual closing hour is somewhere between midnight and 1 a. m., judging from last year's experience. It may be that you are under the impression that it was closed on Sunday from the fact that it was not once last Sunday. It was once last Sunday, May 4.
